

LIBRARYSEARCH

Using LIBRARYSEARCH to find a dissertation or thesis

Introduction

Some dissertations and theses are not kept in the library and so are not found on LibrarySearch. Before you start, have a look at the dissertations and theses webpage. From here you can find out whether dissertations for your subject are in the library or kept in a departmental office or elsewhere.

In addition, this page lists some other ways you can search for dissertations and theses.

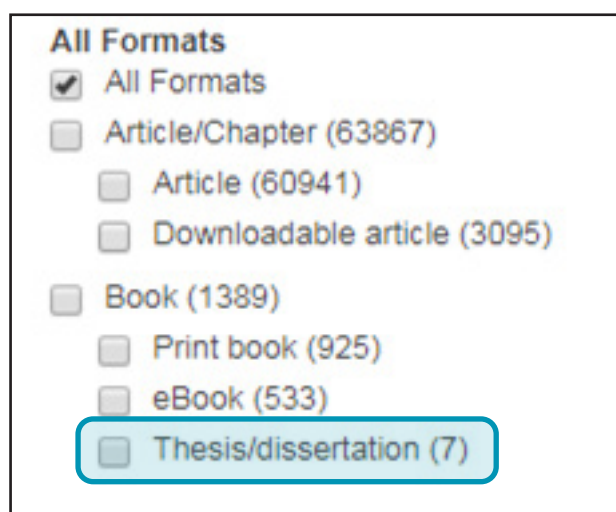

Getting started

From the library home page click on the LibrarySearch tab. You can search for any combination of words from the title, author's name or subject.

Under format, select 'thesis/dissertation'. This is listed as a subcategory of 'book'. You will probably need to click on 'show more' under the list of formats to see it.

A screenshot of the 'All Formats' section in the search tools. It lists various document types with checkboxes and counts in parentheses. The 'Thesis/dissertation (7)' option is highlighted with a blue rounded rectangle. The list includes: 'All Formats' (checked), 'Article/Chapter (63867)', 'Article (60941)', 'Downloadable article (3095)', 'Book (1389)', 'Print book (925)', 'eBook (533)', and 'Thesis/dissertation (7)'.

Format	Count

Article/Chapter	63867
Article	60941
Downloadable article	3095
Book	1389
Print book	925
eBook	533
Thesis/dissertation	7
