

LIBRARYSEARCH

Using LIBRARYSEARCH to find a dissertation or thesis

Introduction

Some dissertations and theses are not kept in the library and so are not found on LibrarySearch. Before you start, have a look at the dissertations and theses webpage. From here you can find out whether dissertations for your subject are in the library or kept in a departmental office or elsewhere.

In addition, this page lists some other ways you can search for dissertations and theses.

Getting started

From the library home page click on the LibrarySearch tab. You can search for any combination of words from the title, author's name or subject.

Under format, select 'thesis/dissertation'. This is listed as a subcategory of 'book'. You will probably need to click on 'show more' under the list of formats to see it.

The screenshot shows the 'All Formats' section of the search tools. It is a list of checkboxes with corresponding format names and counts in parentheses. The 'Thesis/dissertation (7)' option is highlighted with a blue border. The list includes: 'All Formats' (checked), 'Article/Chapter (63867)', 'Article (60941)', 'Downloadable article (3095)', 'Book (1389)', 'Print book (925)', 'eBook (533)', and 'Thesis/dissertation (7)'.

The results list

In the list of results you can see the titles, authors and years of relevant theses and dissertations.
