Dear Peter,

I don't know if you are the right person to ask about literary awards, but if not, perhaps you would be kind enough to pass on my request to the appropriate department.

I should be most grateful for details of all the literary awards for which publishers can enter. If I remember rightly, three new ones were introduced a few weeks ago.

Wolfe Publishing are not actually members of the P.A., so I hope this does not debar us from competing. I know that Mr. Wolfe has been negotiating for membership.

Yours sincerely,

Tessa C. Harrow
