Lord Hardinge of Penshurst,

Dear George,

Many thanks for your letter of 17th January. I must apologise for the delay in acknowledging your letter but my office has been a bit chaotic as we have been moving once again.

I understand John circulated the letter from Robin Denniston to our Vice Chairman, Michael Caine, but no further. However, since the prize dinner we have had a very successful lunch here when Jim Farrell met George Bishop, Michael Wildy and Dennis Joss. In view of this I think I will let sleeping dogs lie.

Our meeting next Thursday is going to be slightly more involved than I originally hoped since we will have to select a new chairman of the judges. We will also need to consider the pros and cons of the prize-giving dinner.

With best wishes,

Yours,

Michael Weekes
