Dear Miss Bowen,

Booker Prize.

I have now received confirmation from Mr Connolly on suitable times for meetings of the Judges. The day for the first meeting that seems most mutually convenient is Friday, 22 September and the date that seems best for the second meeting is Tuesday 17 October. I would be very grateful if you would let me know as soon as possible if these days are no longer suitable for you. I will be in touch with you again very shortly about time and place.

I enclose two copies of a checklist of titles, one for your use and one for my file, and would be most grateful if you would state 'yes' or 'no' in the relevant column against those titles where your mind is fairly clearly made up, so that I may send these to the other Judges and some process of elimination may take place before the first meeting on 22 September. For this to be effective I would appreciate it if the list could be sent back to me by 15 September.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Marilyn Edwards
